Subject: public comment for making changes to student loans

my one request is to bring back consumer protection to student loans....allow bankruptcy to cover student loans for students who are having severe trouble and of course make it to were a student cant go back to school on loans for a period of time maybe five years or so and have student write up a financial plan on how they will stay out of trouble...all i know is so many students very quickly get in to trouble with student loans the interest can add up the penalties can add up and so forth putting a lot of students in a modern day debtors prison scenario...a life can easily be ruined if you owe on student loans...the us goverment and the companies that loan the money have the right to get whats owed to them i only question the tactics that are employed...i think the us goverment should be the sole loan source leaving for profit loan company's out of the game...
